WOULD BE MARSHAL

firm, he returned to his home town of Las Vegas and accepted a position as bookkeeper with I. D. de Romero, a general merchant. In a short time he bought an interest in the establishment, which is now a large corporation known as the Romero Mercantile company.

In 1893, Mr. Romero sold out his interest in the Romero store and went into business with his father, Don Eugenio Romero, under the firm name of Romero & Romero. He was thus engaged, when in 1897, President William McKinley appointed him clerk of the Fourth judicial district, which position he has held continuously since that time, or extending over a period of twelve years.

Ever since he was 21 years old, Mr. Romero has taken an active part in politics, both territorial and county, being always aligned with the Grand Old party. He has been a delegate to every territorial or county convention since reaching his majority. He was elected a delegate to the Republican national convention in 1900, which met at Philadelphia, and nominated for the presidency a second time, the martyred president, William McKinley. Since 1896, Mr. Romero has been chairman of the Republican county central committee of San Miguel county. He has also been a member of the Republican territorial central committee since he became of age. Aside from his great political victory in November a year ago, one of his greatest political achievements was when he defeated the so-called Union party in this county in the memorable campaign of 1896.

But Mr. Romero has not alone gained fame in politics. In civil life his record is just as brilliant. It was Mr. Romero, who took the leading part in the breaking up of the notorious "White Caps" who some years ago terrorized San Miguel county and northeastern New Mexico. This gang had things at its mercy, until Mr. Romero stepped in and at the risk of his life, put an end to its depredations. This gang stopped at nothing. Murder, arson, train robbery, horse and cattle stealing numbered among its chief vocations. With Mr. Romero at the head of a determined band of law-abiding citizens, who were specially deputized to act as officers for the protection of the lives and property of persons in the community this gang was wiped out of existence in a short time, its members either hung or sent to prison and peace was once again restored in this section and matters have remained tranquil since. Another display of Mr. Romero's courage in the face of death was given on the night of October 30, 1905, when he captured, single-handed, Romaldo Varela, an escaped convict who was lying in wait just outside of Romero's home, to assassinate him. As Romero stepped out of his front door on that night, Varela jumped from his hiding place, a Winchester in his hands, Romero, never faltered, but quickly stepping back into the doorway, he snatched a six-shooter from a bed near the door and dashed outside to meet the would-be assassin. So quick was the move executed, that Varela was taken by surprise, and before he had time to recover, Romero had the revolver pressed to his heart and had disarmed Varela. He was escorted to the county jail and later returned to the penitentiary to serve out his sentence. This brief mention will serve to recall this sensational episode to Las Vegas in general, and is cited as one of the many evidences to show that Mr. Romero possesses the qualifications essential for the active duties of the United States marshalship.

For three terms, extending up to the present time, Mr. Romero has been mayor of the town of Las Vegas. During the time he has been at the head of the municipal government of the town of Las Vegas he has put the town government on its feet, that is, has gotten it out of debt until today it does not owe one cent.

Columns might be written about Secundino Romero, but for the present this should suffice. In fact, Mr. Romero is so widely known, not only in San Miguel county, but all over New Mexico, that what has already been said is but to recall that which has been told and written since he began as a boy of twenty-one to take an active part in official and civil life.

As for the other candidates who are seeking the marshalship, there are but two prominently mentioned. Thomas S. Hubbell, former sheriff of Bernalillo county, and Edward C. Burke, of Santa Fe, a brother of Congressman James Francis Burke, of Pittsburg, Pa. Both are active candidates for the position, but just now, all conditions considered, Mr. Romero has what is believed to be an indisputable advantage.

Whatever the final outcome of the contest, Mr. Romero will have the satisfaction of knowing that his home county and town, were solid for him, as well as his army of friends in every county and town in New Mexico.
